Situations where we cannot combine parcels:

- If the owner names are different on each parcel
- If there is a primary structure (such as a house) on each parcel
- If there are any outstanding taxes (current or delinquent) or special assessments

Situations where we cannot split parcels:

- If there are any outstanding taxes (current or delinquent) or special assessments
- If it creates a landlocked parcel
- If the property is being purchased on a land contract, all parcels must be included in the land contract and written permission must be obtained from both the seller and the buyer

Please sketch the proposed combination/split below, or attach to this application. If you are filling out online, attach an image of your sketch below. Include any existing structures on the property
